engaging, enabling, empowering

Why choose the ASC Specialist Service?

We have years of experience working across the autism spectrum and can help you with:

- communication needs – improving your communication skills, whether you are verbal or non-verbal
- sensory needs – developing strategies to help you better manage your sensory needs
- challenging behaviour – developing effective coping strategies
- anxiety – helping you to reduce and better manage anxiety
- outcome-focussed teaching – taking small steps to support you to experience success and develop motivation and self-esteem.

A multidisciplinary approach

We liaise closely with relevant professionals and parents/carers to make sure that we provide a cutting-edge service that caters to real needs.

Individual needs

The support we offer each customer is unique, based upon the customer's own individual needs.

A personal touch

We organise regular, ongoing meetings with parents/carers, send invitations to quarterly events, and produce a monthly newsletter.

How else can this service help me?

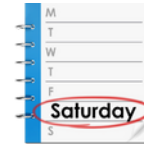

Our friendly and dedicated team, who all receive specialist ASD training, will help you with:
